A Silver Discussion in the House.

REDWOOD TIMBER FRAUDS.

How Citizens of California Grew Wealthy by Entries of Land.

[Special to the Herald by the Associated Press.]

WASHINGTON, April 3.—On motion of Mr. Kelley, of Pennsylvania, the title of the bill was amended so as to read "to provide for the method of settling controversies and differences between railway corporations engaged in interstate and territorial transportation of property and passengers and their employees."

In reporting back to the House the bill to consolidate certain bureaus of the department, the committee recommended that the present organization of the mail department be largely a creature of Executive orders quiesced in that they had not affected the service of the people. The committee proposed seems to stand in relation to each other and to the Secretary in a manner precisely analogous to the relation of the various departments to the government bear to each other, according to the president. In other words these eight bureaus have become eight little Navy Departments which should be established, this division of powers being necessary, about many conflicts of authority, and results in much needless expenditure of money.

The debate on the silver bill, argued in favor of the double standard and charged that the officials of the treasury department were violating the laws and threatening war with the people who were bound to pay out silver on obligations of the government. The course of the administration had much to do with the decline in the value of the dollar. The president gave the world to understand there was to be no suspension of silver coining and there was no doubt but that there would be a decided appreciation in the price of Mr. Barksdale of Mississippi opposed the bimetallic coinage as did Mr. Kelley of Tennessee.

Mr. Woodburn of Nevada, defended the silver dollar from the charge of dishonesty, and argued in favor of unlimited coinage.

In the evening session Mr. Gallegos, of New Hampshire, argued in favor of the suspension of silver coining. President Cleveland's "incomes desiderata" was also widely discussed.

Mr. Moore of Illinois, submitted an argument in opposition to the suspension of silver coining, and then the House adjourned.

REDWOOD FRAUDS.

Arrest of Prominent Citizens for Fraudulent Land Entries.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 3.—The United States Grand Jury to-day found indictments against eight prominent citizens of this State for subordination of perjury in cases of fraudulent entries of redwood timber land in Humboldt county, California.

The names of three are Joseph Russ, David Evans and Charles H. King, who collectively represent five millions of capital. The names of the other five are not yet known, but they are said to be all wealthy men.

Land dealers in San Francisco had reason to suspect irregularities in the entry of the lands and sent Special Agent B. F. Bergen, of the Surveyor's Department, to investigate the case.

The result of Bergen's investigation shows that the parties indicated were all members of the California Redwood Company, the capital for whom was mainly supplied by San Francisco. The individual parties purchased about six hundred American citizens to take up one hundred and sixty acres of land each, for which each received fifty dollars.

At 11 o'clock the train left San Francisco and at 11:35 o'clock steamed into the yard.

The train consisted of the caboose and ten cars, loaded with coal.

This unpleasing aspect of the labor troubles in Texas yesterday culminated in the effusion of blood. This is to be regretted on all grounds. Any dispute on any proposition is much complicated by the shedding of blood. Even the death of a single human being is a lamentable misadventure. In the case of the Texas strikes there has been a great degree of exacerbation which thus far has failed of the fatal climax. We heartily hope that better counsels will prevail in that section.

GLENSTONE is the first of the English statesmen who, while in power, has dared to hint at Home Rule for Ireland. And yet what is there that is in the slightest degree violent or revolutionary in this scheme? Much less than a hundred years ago Ireland had her Parliament and controlled her own affairs. It can hardly be claimed that she is less able to do this in 1886 than in 1782. People in the closing days of the present century are far more exacting than those who lived in the days of "Auld Lang Syne."

The Evening Express, which is always courteous and very often right, does not miss the mark very far in the following:

Our esteemed morning contemporary, the San Francisco association in the publishing firm, Mr. Joseph D. Lynch having associated with himself "one of the most distinguished journalists of California," and the firm name of "Lynch & Co." with that of Joseph D. Lynch & Co. Although this is not mentioned, it is understood, that Col. J. J. Ayers, for many years the able editor of the Evening Express, is now a member of the firm, and the HERALD's mention of the fact that "his present official engagements will not admit of his immediately giving up his position in the firm, which he has so ably worked in the line of development," points directly to that veteran of journalism. The association thus offered is a fortunate one, and to the public at large and the Express extends its congratulations.

The bondholders of Wall street are to-day hard pressed to find arguments against the strong and growing sentiment in favor of bi-metallism. The argument has been steadily against them; but they believe, with the Academicians, that if the arguments disagree with the facts so much the worse for the facts. In spite of the Cassandra outgoings of the Wall street pundits, the national credit is steadily rising. Our government four per cent, bonds, now selling at about $127, yield the holders barely 2½ per cent. per annum. Yet a chorus of howling idiots connected with the press of the cities of the Atlantic seaboard are seeking to impregnate the urban mind, generally, with the idea that unless the further yearly coinage of so petty a sum of standard dollars as fifty cents per head of the population is summarily stopped, the whole credit of the country will be destroyed and the bondholders be cheated of a substantial part of their property by the effects of electricity in curing cases of chronic disease when all else had failed. The new remedy before abandoning all others, is to be the massage treatment, by persons of their own sex. The Doctor of Osteopathy, however, is to be given the patient free of charge. His office hours are still at 5 p.m.

Electro-Magnetism, the New Medicine of Cure.

The river bank was increased from 100 feet to 120 feet, and the water was diverted to the river channel. The bridge was passed over and the Cambridge was built across the river. The bridge was completed in time to meet the arrival of the first boat. The bridge was opened to traffic on April 1st.

The Great University Boat Race.

THE CAMBRIDGE CREW WINS.

A Very Close and Exciting Contest, A Neck and Neck Race.

I send to the Herald to Associated Press: LONDON, April 3.—Cambridge won the university boat race on the Thames this morning. The sky was cloudy, the weather mild, and the wind pretty strong at the start, and during the race the water was sufficiently "jumpy" to put to a thorough test the stamina of the contestants. Betting was in favor of the Cambridge crew. The river banks were crowded with people, thousands making the race an event for a holiday. A crowd, rough and ill clad, appeared on the scene, as if to remind the holiday makers that they were Englishmen, in capacity, enjoying the sports along the river course, headed by a band, bearing banners calling attention to the districts.

The boats were started even and were kept so as fine a contest as was ever witnessed on the course for a while, but then the Cambridge boat pulled a few feet ahead.

In the distance, however, the Cambridge crew made several desperate sprints to get away from their competitors, but the latter soon recovered and made a few more sprints, each time getting closer and closer to the Cambridge boat.

At last the Cambridge boat pulled away and the Cambridge crew made a few more sprints, each time getting closer and closer to the Cambridge boat.
